VA cancels National Disabled Veterans Winter Sports Clinic

The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) announced today that the National Disabled Veterans Winter Sports Clinic, which had been scheduled to occur from March 29 to April 3, in Snowmass, Colo., has been cancelled.

While the Centers for Disease Control still considers COVID-19 to be a low threat to the general American public, VA made this decision out of an abundance of caution.

VA is in the process of directly notifying all affected parties.

The department and its co-presenter Disabled American Veterans (DAV) look forward to serving our Veterans at the 2021 National Disabled Veterans Winter Sports Clinic.

If you have specific questions, Veterans, staff and volunteers should email Teresa Parks, Director, National Disabled Veterans Winter Sports Clinic, at Teresa.Parks@va.gov. Sponsors should contact John Kleindienst at jkleindienst@dav.org. We will respond via email as quickly as possible, thank you for understanding.
